ONTARIO LABOUR RELATIONS BOARD ANNUAL REPORT 2000-2001

May 2001 Chair – R. O. MacDowell

Chair's Message

Fiscal 2000-2001 was a period of economic prosperity for the Province of Ontario, and relative stability here at the Board. Last year we received approximately 4000 new cases - which is roughly the same as in the previous fiscal year. However, because of increasing organizational efficiencies, we were able to reduce both the overall number of pending cases, and the number of outstanding decisions. Median disposition times were reduced by 24%.

As usual, the bulk of dispute resolution was done by the parties themselves, with the assistance of labour relations officers. About 88% of the cases filed were settled without a formal hearing. Accommodation and compromise continue to be the primary method of resolving labour relations disputes.

The sunny economic climate is reflected in the behaviour of parties in the community. Over the last fiscal year: unfair labour practic e activity was down (especially if one discounts duty of fair representation cases which are seldom successful); construction industry grievance activity was also down; certification activity has shown a moderate increase; and employee-initiated termination applications were relatively low. The "quick vote" certification system continues to work quite efficiently. Roughly 90 percent of representation votes are conducted within seven days of the certification application being filed, and the overall union "success rate" is around 70 percent.

On the other hand, if the sunny economic climate helps to explain why employer-employee-trade union relationships were relatively stable last year, that climate does not seem to have had much effect on trade unions themselves. There continues to be a relatively high level of inter-union rivalry, which often spills over into applications at the Board. Nor has that rivalry been confined to the construction industry.

On the organizational side of things, institutional and technological change continue apace, allowing us to improve our level of service and communication with the community, and, at the same time, reduce the average cost per case disposed of. What this means is that "ordinary cases" are being disposed of more quickly and efficiently -- although, of course, there will always be complicated cases that take longer, and we are continuing to look for better ways of doing things.

For example, our web site has improved our ability to keep the community informed about what is going on at the Board. Indeed, we hope that, as time goes on, our stakeholders will become more comfortable with using the web site -- which has all of our Rules and Forms and information bulletins, as well as current cases of interest and notes of organizational changes. We anticipate that the statistics that are in this annual report will soon be available on the web, and can be updated quarterly, giving ready access to current and historical information about both the Board itself and the system that it administers. In this sense, a paper report like this one should soon become obsolete.

However, the real "news" is not the performance, challenges, or successes of the previous fiscal year. Rather, it is what is on the horizon for the future. Because, as I write, we all await the results of the government's latest initiative to further consolidate and improve workplace adjudication: the creation of the so-called "super tribunal".

Finally, on a purely personal note, on May 31, 2001, I celebrated my 25th anniversary with the Ontario Labour Relations Board, which, despite all of the changes in recent years, continues to be the best labour relations tribunal in North America. So let me take this opportunity to thank you, the readers in the labour relations community, for your continuing consideration, concern and support.

OLRB Annual Report 2000-2001

Chair – R.O. MacDowell

Accountability Statement

The OLRB's Annual Report for the fiscal year ending March 31, 2001 was prepared under my direction for submission to the Minister of Labour in accordance with the Agency Establishment and Accountability Directive – February 2000, as issued by Management Board of Cabinet .

Preface

The Public Accounts of Ontario are the annual financial statements that are prepared in compliance with the requirements of Section 13 of the Ministry of Treasury and Economics Act. The Public Accounts consist of the financial report of the Government of Ontario and the financial reports of each ministry. In accordance with the Ministry of Labour's Delegation of Financial Authority Framework, financial authority is delegated to the agency. Each year the OLRB verifies that all its transactions are reflected accurately and completely in the Public Accounts through the execution of a Certificate of Assurance.

The Annual Report of Ministry of the Labour, which is to be released in the fall of each year, in the form of its Business Plan, contains the Minister's mission and accountability statements, the consolidated financial/allocation statements of the Ministry and a comparison of actual performance results to desired results set out in the Ministry business plan.

As an agency of the Ministry of Labour, the OLRB's Annual Report is subject to the minimum reporting requirements established in the Agency Establishment and Accountability Directive, including:

- financial statements that have been audited or subject to the appropriate level of external assurance;
- analysis of operational performance;
- analysis of financial performance;
- names of appointees and term of appointments
- performance measures, targets achieved/not achieved and action to be taken.

This report covers the fiscal year April 1, 2000 to March 31, 2001.

- * Environmental Assessment Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. E.18
- * Environmental Protection Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. E.19

- Public Service Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. P.47
- Smoking in the Workplace Act, R.S.O. 1990, c. S.13

The Board's primary work is administering the Labour Relations Act, 1995, which regulates many aspects of collective bargaining in Ontario. The legislative policy underlying the Act is set out in section 2:

2. The following are the purposes of the Act:

- 1. To facilitate collective bargaining between employers and trade unions that are the freely designated representatives of the employees.
- 2. To recognize the importance of workplace parties adapting to change.
- 3. To promote flexibility, productivity and employee involvement in the workplace.

- 4. To encourage communication between employers and employees in the workplace.
- 5. To recognize the importance of economic growth as the foundation for mutually beneficial relations amongst employers, employees and trade unions.
- 6. To encourage co-operative participation of employers and trade unions in resolving workpace issues.
- 7. To promote the expeditious resolution of workplace disputes.

With this policy as a basis, the Act confers on the Board the authority over many important aspects of labour relations, including the certification of unions to represent employees, unfair labour practices, successor bargaining rights, strikes and lock-outs, first contract directions, jurisdictional disputes and the arbitration of grievances in the construction industry. In order to carry out this mandate, the full Board is composed of a Chair, an Alternate Chair, 14 full-time and 5 part-time Vice-Chairs, and 9 full-time Board Members. These individuals draw upon specialized expertise in labour relations in hearing and determining cases before them. The Board strives to keep its procedures informal, expeditious and fair, and to avoid being overly technical or legalistic. However, it is important to recognize that legal rights are in issue, the statutory framework is often complex, and, these days, it is common for parties to be represented by lawyers.

Under section 114(1) of the Labour Relations Act, 1995, the Board has the exclusive jurisdiction to exercise the power conferred upon it and to determine all questions of fact or law that arise. Its decisions are not subject to appeal and a privative clause in the Act limits the scope of judicial review. The Board does have the power to reconsider any of its decisions, although it exercises this jurisdiction carefully in the interests of finality and fairness. The Board is also entitled to determine its own practices and procedures and to make rules. Those rules and the forms for commencing or responding to cases are available on the OLRB's website www.gov.on.ca/lab/olrb/eng/homeeng.htm or, directly, from the Board at 505 University Avenue, 2nd Floor, Toronto, Ontario, M5G 2P1, in both paper form and computer disk.

The OLRB's operations and staff can be broadly divided into The Board, Administration, Field Services (mediation), and Legal Services. The administrative, field, and legal staff are civil service appointments. The Board is composed of a Chair, an Alternate Chair, Vice-Chairs and Board Members. The Chair, Alternate Chair, Vice-Chairs and Board Members are appointed by the Lieutenant Governor in Council as Order in Council appointments (OIC).

Board Staff

ADMINISTRATION:

Office of the Director and Registrar

The Director and Registrar is the chief administrative officer of the Board. He is responsible for the overall administration of the Board's businesses: operations, mediation and adjudication. The Director and Registrar oversees he effective processing and scheduling of each case, and communicates with the parties in matters relating to the mediation of cases, scheduling of hearings or on particular problems in the processing of any given case. Every application received by the Board enters the system through the Director and Registrar's office.

Manager of Administration

The Manager of Administration is responsible for the efficient operation of the Board through the effective and efficient coordination of the procurement and budget functions, human resources functions, client services, Information and Information Technology, and the provision of administrative direction for all shared/common services.

Library Services

In December 1998 the Ontario Labour Relations Board Library was merged with the Workplace Safety and Insurance Appeals Tribunal Library and the Pay Equity Commission Library to form the new Ontario Workplace Tribunals Library. The library is situated in the same building as the Board – 505 University Avenue – currently on the  $7^{h}$  floor.

Library holdings related to the OLRB include all reported OLRB decisions from1944 to date, all judicial reviews of OLRB decisions from 1947 to date, all bargaining unit certificates issued by the OLRB from 1962 forward. In addition, the Library has a collection of all Employment Standards review decisions from 1970 to date and all Occupational Health and Safety appeal decisions from 1980 to date. Textbooks, journals and case reports in the areas of labour, administrative and constitutional law are also held.

FIELD SERVICES (mediation)

The Board is a pioneer in the area of alternative dispute resolution. The Manager of Field Services, eleven Labour Relations Specialists, and fourteen Labour Relations Officers, are responsible for mediating settlements in all of the Board's cases. In fiscal 2000/2001 LROs facilitated settlements in more than 85% of all disposed cases. In addition to settling cases, Labour Relations Officers assist parties in identifying issues and streamlining the cases that do get adjudicated in order to avoid unnecessary litigation. They also, along with the Board's Conciliation Officers, carry out the Board's pre and post vote phone mediation program and conduct representation and final offer votes.

LEGAL SERVICES

Legal Services to the Board are provided by the Solicitors' Office, which consists of two Board Solicitors. The Solicitors provide legal research, advice, opinions and memoranda to the Chair, Vice-Chairs, Board Members, Labour Relations Officers and administrative staff. They are extensively involved in changes to the Board's rules of procedure and forms and contribute to the continuing education of staff. The Board's Solicitors also represent the Board in court proceedings, including applications for judicial review.

CASELOAD ANALYSIS, CASE MANAGEMENT EFFICIENCIES and STATISTICAL TABLES/GRAPHS 2000-2001

Caseload Analysis

In fiscal year 2000-2001, the Board received a total of 4,099 applications, appeals and complaints.

In addition to the cases received, 2,105 were carried over from the previous year for a total caseload of 6,204 in 2000-2001. Of the total caseload, 4702 were disposed of during the year and 1,502 (a reduction of 28.7 % from the previous fiscal year) were pending in various stages of processing/mediation/adjudication at March 31, 2001.

Note: The section numbers referred to below correspond to the Labour Relations Act, 1995, S.O. 1995, c.1, Schedule A ("Bill 7").

Labour Relations Officer Activity

Labour Relations Specialists and Officers are the Board's professional mediators. They are assigned to every Board case in an effort to facilitate settlements in matters brought before the Board, without the need for formal litigation before the Board itself. (Table 3)

Of those cases in which activity was completed and cases disposed by the end of the year, 87.5% of these cases were settled with the assistance of Labour Relations Officers. Officers referred 587 cases to the Board for decisions or proceedings; and settlement efforts were continuing in 1502 cases at March 31, 2001.

Representation Votes

In 2000-2001, the Board's Labour Relations Officers and Conciliators conducted a total of 840 representation votes among employees in one or more bargaining units. Of the 840 votes conducted, 766 involved certification applications, and 74 were held in applications for termination of existing bargaining rights. (Table 4)

Of the certification votes, 669 involved a single union on the ballot, and 97 involved two unions.

A total of 45,065 employees were eligible to vote in the 840 elections that were conducted, of whom 36,435 or 80.8 percent cast ballots. Of those who participated, 56.8 percent voted in favour of union representation. In the 669 elections in certification applications that involved a single union, 82.2 percent of the eligible voters cast ballots, with 56.5 percent of the participants voting for union representation.

In the 74 votes in applications for termination of bargaining rights, 82.7 percent of the eligible voters cast ballots, with only 30.6 percent of those who participated voting for the incumbent unions.

Final Offer Votes

In addition to taking votes ordered in its cases, the Board's Registrar was requested by the Minister to conduct votes among employees on employers' last offer for settlement of a collective agreement dispute under section 42(1) of the Act. Although the Board is not responsible for the administration of votes under that section, the Board's Registrar and field staff are assigned to conduct these votes because of their expertise and experience in conducting representation votes under the Act.

Of the 27 requests dealt with by the Board during the fiscal year, six cases were granted, seven cases were settled, eight cases were dismissed, one case was terminated, another was withdrawn, four were adjourned sine die, and the remaining five cases were pending at March 31, 2001.

In the 14 votes held, employees accepted the employer's offer in six cases and rejected the offer in eight cases.

Disposition Time – Major Categories

Table 6 provides statistics on the time taken by the Board to process the 3,662 cases disposed of in 2000-2001, excluding cases in which proceedings were adjourned sine die. Information is shown separately for the three major categories of cases handled by the Board - certification applications, complaints of contravention of the Act, and referrals of grievances under construction industry collective agreements - and for the other categories combined.

Overall median times to proceed from filing to disposition for the 3,662 cases that were completed in 2000-2001 were reduced by 24% from fiscal 1999/00. For the three major categories: 863 certification applications were processed in a median of 29 days; 791 complaints of contravention of the Act took 128 days; and 490 referrals of construction industry grievances required 15 days.

8 | II Executive Summary – Overview of Results

Certification of Bargaining Agents

In 2000-2001, the Board received 850 applications for certification of trade unions as bargaining agents of employees, an increase of 21.43 percent from 1999 - 2000. (Table 1).

Ten unions, each with more than 25 applications, accounted for 74.3 percent of the total filings: Canadian Auto Workers (201 cases), Labourers (95 cases), Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) (78 cases), Carpenters (67 cases), Teamsters (38 cases), Food and Commercial Workers (33 cases), United Steelworkers (33 cases), Ontario Public Service Employees (31 cases), International Operating Engineers (30 cases), and IWA-Canada (26 cases). In contrast, 17 unions filed fewer than 5 applications each. These unions together accounted for 3.9 percent of the total certification filings. (Table 7)

Table 8 gives the industrial distribution of the certification applications receivedand disposed of during the year. Non-manufacturing industries accounted for 86.8 percent of theapplications received, concentrated in health and welfare services (226 cases) and construction(172 cases).These two groups comprised 53.9 percent of the total non-manufacturingapplications.The 112 applications involving establishments in manufacturing industriescomprised 13.2 percent of the new applications.

In addition to the 850 applications received, 273 cases were carried over from last year, making a total certification caseload of 1,123 in 2000-2001. Of the total caseload, 927 were disposed of and 196 cases were pending at March 31, 2001. Of the 927 dispositions, certification was granted in 521 cases; 243 cases were dismissed; and 163 cases were settled or withdrawn. The certified cases represented 60.37 percent of the total dispositions. (Table 1)

Of the 764 applications that were either certified or dismissed, final decisions in a number of cases were based on the results of representation votes. Of the 749 votes conducted, 678 involved a single union on the ballot, and 71 were held between two unions. Applicants won in 536 of the votes and lost in the other 213. (Table 5)

A total of 47,571 employees were eligible to vote in the 749 elections, of whom 36,300 or 76.3 percent cast ballots. In the 536 votes that were won and resulted in certification, 21,991 or 69.5 percent of the 31,620 employees eligible to vote cast ballots, and of these voters, 16,790 or 76.3 percent favoured union representation. In the 213 elections that were lost and resulted in dismissals, 14,309 employees participated, and, of these, 5,862 or 41.0 percent voted for union representation. (Table 5)

Size and Composition of Bargaining Units

Small units continued to be the predominant pattern of union organizing efforts through the certification process in 2000-2001. The average size of the 542 bargaining units in the 521 applications that were certified was 68 employees, compared with 63 employees in 1999-2000. The 63 units in construction certifications averaged seven employees, and the 479 units in non-construction certifications averaged 76 employees. Sixty-three point nine (63.9) percent of the total certification applications involved units of fewer than 40 employees, and 26.1 percent applied to units of fewer than 10 employees. The total number of employees covered by the certification applications granted increased to 36,901 from 19,763 in 1999-2000. (Table 9)

Of the employees covered by the certification applications granted, 8,168, or 22.1 percent, were in bargaining units that comprised full-time employees or in units that excluded employees working 24 hours or less a week. Units composed of employees working 24 hours or less a week accounted for 9,528 employees. Full-time and part-time employees were represented in units covering 19,205 employees, including units that did not specifically exclude employees working 24 hours or less a week. (Tables 11 and 12)

Eighty-eight point zero (88.0) percent of the employees, or 32,460, were employed in production and related occupations; 1,800 were in office, clerical and technical occupations - mainly in health and welfare services. Professional employees, found mostly in health and welfare services, accounted for 1,393 employees; and 1,241 were in units that included employees in two or more classifications. (Tables 13 and 14)

Disposition Time – Certifications Granted

A median time of 30 calendar days was required to complete the 521 certification applications granted from receipt to disposition. For non-construction certification, the median time was 33 days for 463 cases; and for construction certification, the median time was 45 days for 58 cases. (Table 10)

Eighty-six point nine percent (86.9) of the 521 certification applications granted were disposed of in 84 days (3 months) or less (Table 10).

Termination of Bargaining Rights

In 2000-2001, the Board received 129 applications under sections 63, 65, 66, 67, and 132 of the Act, seeking termination of the bargaining rights of trade unions. In addition, 55 cases were carried over from 1999-2000. (Table 1)

Of the 184 cases processed, bargaining rights were terminated in 59 cases, 29 cases were dismissed, 49 cases were settled and 47 cases were pending at March 31, 2001.

Sixty-two (62) representation votes were held on 88 cases that were either granted or dismissed. A total of 2,548 employees were eligible to vote in the 62 elections that were held, of whom 2,102 or 82.5 percent cast ballots. Of those who cast ballots, 271 voted for continued representation by unions and 322 voted against. (Table 5).

Declaration of Successor Trade Union

In 2000-2001, the Board dealt with 82 applications for declarations under section 68 of the Act concerning the bargaining rights of successor trade unions resulting from a union merger or transfer of jurisdiction. Affirmative declarations were issued by the Board in 67 cases, two cases were settled, one case was terminated, another was withdrawn, proceedings were adjourned sine die in two cases, and the remaining nine cases were pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

Declaration of Successor or Common Employer

In 2000-2001, the Board dealt with 375 applications for declarations under section 69 of the Act concerning the bargaining rights of trade unions of a successor employer resulting from a business sale, or for declarations under section 1(4) to treat two companies as one employer. The two types of requests are often made in a single application.

10 | II Executive Summary – Overview of Results

Affirmative declarations were issued by the Board in 30 cases, 25 applications were dismissed, 174 cases were withdrawn or adjourned sine die and 146 cases were pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

Declaration/Direction of Unlawful Strike

In 2000-2001, the Board dealt with 23 applications seeking a declaration under section 100 regarding an alleged unlawful strike by employees in the non-construction industry. Seventeen cases were settled, four cases were granted, one case was dismissed, proceedings were adjourned sine die in 10 cases, and the remaining case was pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

The Board dealt with seven applications seeking directions under section 144 of the Act against alleged unlawful strikes by construction workers. Of these, five cases were settled and the remaining two were pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

Declaration/ Direction of Unlawful Lock-out

Four applications seeking declarations under section 101 of the Act regarding an alleged unlawful lock-out by non-construction employers were processed in 2000-2001. Three cases were settled and the remaining was dismissed.

Four applications seeking a declaration under section 144 of the Act regarding an alleged unlawful lock-out in the construction industry; three cases were settled and the remaining case was dismissed. (Table 1)

Consent to Prosecute

In 2000-2001, the Board dealt with 10 applications under section 109 of the Act requesting consent to institute prosecution in court against unions and employers for alleged commission of offences under the Act.

Of the ten applications processed, seven were settled, two were dismissed and the remaining case was pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

Complaints of Contravention of Act

Complaints alleging contravention of the Act may be filed with the Board under section 96 of the Act. In handling these cases the Board emphasizes settlements facilitated by its labour relations officers.

In 2000-2001, the Board received 903 complaints under this section. In complaints against employers, the principal charges were alleged illegal discharge of or discrimination against employees for union activity in violation of section 70 and 72 of the Act, illegal changes in wages and working conditions contrary to section 86, and failure to bargain in good faith under section 17. These charges were made mostly in connection with applications for certification. The principal charge against trade unions was alleged failure to represent employees fairly in grievances against their employer.

In addition to the complaints received, 605 cases were carried over from 1999-2000. Of the 1,508 cases processed, 1,061 were disposed of, proceedings were adjourned sine die in 270 cases, and 447 cases were pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

In 936, or 88.2 percent, of the 1061 dispositions, settlements and withdrawals of the complaint were secured by labour relations officers (Table 3). Remedial orders were issued by the Board in 20 cases, 264 cases were dismissed, 763 cases were settled, and 14 cases were terminated. (Table 1)

Construction Industry Grievances

Grievances over alleged violation of the provisions of a collective agreement in the construction industry may be referred to the Board for resolution under section 133 of the Act. As with complaints of contravention of the Act, the Board encourages settlement of these cases by the parties involved, with the assistance of a labour relations officer.

In 2000-2001, the Board received 780 cases under this section. The principal issues in these grievances were alleged failure by employers to make required contributions to health and welfare, pension and vacation funds, failure to deduct union dues, and alleged violation of the subcontracting and hiring arrangements in the collective agreement.

In addition to the cases received, 192 were carried over from 1999-2000. Of the total 972 processed, 849 were disposed of; of these, awards were made by the Board in 154 cases, nine cases were dismissed, 686 cases were settled, and 123 cases were pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

In 803, or 94.6, percent of the 849 dispositions, settlements and withdrawal of the grievance were obtained by labour relations officers (Table 3).

Statistics on the cases under the Colleges Collective Bargaining Act dealt with by the Board are included in Table 1.

Appeals under The Employment Standard Act

The Employment Standards Act deals with workplace rights such as minimum wage, hours of work, overtime, vacation or public holiday pay, termination issues, and severance pay.

The Board dealt with 1,220 appeals during 2000-2001. Of the 870 cases that were disposed of, 73 were granted, 206 were dismissed, 513 cases were settled, 78 were terminated, and 350 cases were pending at March 31, 2001. (Table 1)

The Act gives the Board the power to determine new bargaining unit configurations, to appoint new bargaining agents, and to address other collective bargaining issues that may arise from municipal amalgamations, school board changes and hospital restructuring.

In 2000-2001, the Board received 42 applications under the Public Sector Labour Relations Transition Act, 1997. Fourteen (14) applications were carried over from the previous year. Representation votes were held to determine the appropriate bargaining agent and unit(s) in 14 of the 56 cases disposed. The Ontario Court of Appeal allowed one appeal of a Divisional Court decision and restored the Board's original decision. The Court of Appeal dismissed two motions for leave to appeal decisions of the Divisional Court.

The Supreme Court of Canada dismissed two matters, granted leave to appeal in one case, and denied leave to appeal in another.

On March 31, 2001, there were twenty-two Labour Board matters pending before the various levels of Court.

All Court decisions relating to matters involving the Board are reported in the bi-monthly OLRB Reports.

OLRB Case Management Efficiencies 1995-2000

Each year the Board undertakes an analysis of its case management efficiencies and reports back on its annual disposition costs. The analysis reviews the number of cases disposed of per FTE (full time employee) and the average annual cost per case calculations and compares the results against the previous fiscal years.

Average Annual Disposition Cost per Case

III OLRB – Measuring Performance – Achieving Goals

Each year the OLRB provides a broad accountability of progress achieved on our core performance measures. We take each of our goals and track progress on a series of performance measures designed to assess whether the Board is measuring up to corporate standards and program targets/commitments.

Measure	Standard / Target	2000-2001 Commitments	2000-2001 Achievements
Level of "customer" satisfaction	75% overall satisfaction with services	70% overall satisfaction with services	Actual: Exceeded commitment - 74% overall satisfaction *As verified by external MOL survey

IV OLRB - Financial Performance – Managing the Dollars

The OLRB is established as an independent administrative tribunal, and operates at arm's length from the Ministry of Labour. However form a budgetary perspective, the OLRB is an Adjudicative Agency accountable to the Minister of Labour. The Board's annual operating budget is part of the Ministry's estimates and allocation process and the Board is required to report quarterly on its expenditures and planned commitments.

The Deputy Minister of Labour has delegated authority for specific financial and administrative transactions to the Chair of the Board, the Director and Managers.

The OLRB is subject to audit review and expenditure constraints and its managers are accountable for following established management practices and using public resources for authorized purposes.

For fiscal 2000/2001 the OLRB reported revenues of 345.8 from: cost recovery on construction industry grievance referrals and, including, 45.8 from publications. The OLRB's budget for fiscal 2000/2001 was 10,420.8 (including transitional and base funding) and its expenditures were 10,325.0. This represented a positive variance between budget and actual of .38%.

V A Look Ahead – Technology at the OLRB

The OLRB will be advancing the use of information and information technology in a variety of ways, including through the full implementation of its newly developed case management system. We will, hopefully, also be piloting a number of electronic service delivery (ESD) initiatives to improve access and service delivery to our "client" and "stakeholder" groups. And, we will be redesigning (new layout/design and services) our website.

For the past eighteen months or so, the OLRB has been involved in the design and development of a new case management system: a comprehensive case management system designed to incorporate the creation and production of electronic case files within an integrated workflow business environment. The system has been designed to be structured enough to accommodate specific workflow steps, yet flexible enough to allow for the injection of new processes on demand. An integral component of the system is the scanning capability that allows for the creation of electronic file folders. All current documentation and information is, therefore, available to the Board's staff by way of scanned images, within a fully integrated, user friendly, electronic case file. The new system has at its root the advanced use technology to improve operational performance (i.e. the day to day management of over 4000 new files). By integrating current technology into the case management process, the Board will be better placed to manage caseload, process cases and improve operational efficiency.

Beyond improvements to the way we move and manage cases at the OLRB, our participation in related electronic service initiatives will advance access to our "services" by moving us, relatively easily, into future goals such as electronic filing and interactive web site service. We will continue to advance the use of the technology at our disposal in the field, as well. Labour Relations Officers will be adopting an Officer Workbench platform which will enable them to receive their cases electronically, scan and communicate the results of mediation efforts in real time. They will have faxing and additional communication tools at their disposal, as well. Indeed, the Board has articulated a plan to implement its ESD initiatives over the next couple of years and, moreover, has moved to participate in a number of pilot initiatives in the areas of e-filing and e-hearings to be initiated within this fiscal year.

Lastly, the OLRB will undertake a redesign of its website. We will be investing in a strategy to improve the layout and functionality of our site and ways to improve "interactiveness", so that users will be able to access (and eventually file) forms and applications online. A new search engine will be developed to enable users to access all decisions produced by the Board. And the site itself will take on a completely different look.
